

You know, I heard our mutual friend handled things well last night. No... unexpected surprises.

That's good to hear. I assume the package arrived on schedule?

More or less. There was a slight situation, but nothing that couldn't be managed.

A detour? That wasn't part of the arrangement.

No, but some Feds were interested, but I got them to go away.

Good.

They won't be bothering us anytime soon, and they'll keep others off of our trail.

I see. And the final destination?

Secured. No loose ends.

Good. Then we move on to the next phase.

Sounds good. What's the password for our next communication?

It's

Understood. Bye.

Bye.